

Death to Life...

Living within death's doors.

Silent to life, breathing in death's cruel wars.

Not knowing where to go what to do.

Satan extinguishing life lying your through.

Lying in bed all the day long.

Silence in the house no radio with song.

Living in death never walking outside.

Cruel is life when we try to hide.

Life is becoming death.

Cruel is life breathing last breath.

Trying to live living in Satan's lie.

Thoughts of life turn to suicide.

As the gates of hell turn their key.

Waiting for my soul to receive.

I scream at the top of my lungs.

Jesus hearken to my words from the bottom rung.

Jesus you are the first and the last.

Your word is true and I'm not some piece of trash.

Silence the liar, quiet the devil's voice.

I am loved and yes I have a choice.

I chose Jesus hold on I cling.

I come from feeding swine but on my finger is your signant ring.

I earned your love when I said yes to you.

The Bible says you love me it is true.

God wants us to work and till the land. Laziness comes from a dealer with slack hand.

I have found no peace in staying in bed and being lazy. It is hard when you are depressed and life seems to be hopeless. What is there to live for we seem to scream out. My life needs meaning and why is life so discouraging and difficult. I was drowning in my own chaos and it was bad. I needed something to end the chaos and what I was going through. I received some mail from a friend and she said she was praying for me about the same time I was going through what I was going through. I didn't put it all together at first but I realized the Devil was trying his best to destroy me. Idle minds were becoming a harsh destroying weapon. I realize the need for work as time can be our own lethal weapon. I guess what I am realizing is we have to learn to live in earth before we can live in heaven. I hope you take heed to this warning and that something here can bless you. AMEN

www.bible-heaven.com

Dale Lee Gordon