

Love song for a Savior...

The mountain of God shown across the land.
It destroys the evil from a bad hand.
God's owns the mountains the birds and bees.
The wind blows softly listen in the trees.
Birds singing, chirping love singing.
Thunders roll a roar angels cheering.
It's a love song for a Savior joy to be.
From God's mountain Jesus lets captive free.
A mighty God crushing Satan's wrath.
Jesus the way and true lights our path.
He is the LORD and Savior and He will win.
God is love and He is coming back again.

Stormy Tears of Understanding...

Tears represent our pain.
A need for God to reign.
From His throne.
You don't walk alone.
A rainbow shines through the cloud.
Victory shouts out loud.
Though gifts aren't always lavished on the land.
Stormy tears dry by God's hand.

Trust

Though the cabinets are bare.
Jesus really does care.
Jesus is the prince of peace.
Prayers are answered when we bow to our knees.
Precious child may you go far in life.
God grant you victory never strife.
Heal those scars end the pain.
Let your broken heart mend again.
With peace and understanding.
I pray to God your life He will be handling.

I am glad you are so wise.
To stay clean from Satan's lies.
Though we have a long road ahead.
Careless words once were said.
And though things were once all wrong.
Understand God is there for you all day long.
I've had a rough life too.
Let peace and love someday rescue you.
